

Getting connected

By Pastor Mark

We talk a lot about getting connected.

- We have connection groups.
- We have a connection card.
- We have a place in the building we call “the connection.”

Obviously we think connecting is an important part of our mission and life as a church community. So what exactly do I mean when I say, “You need to get connected”?

First we all need to remember that sin has disconnected us from God Himself. When mankind chose to become disobedient and to go his own way rather than being obedient and following the way laid out before us, we were separated and disconnected from God. As long as we continue on with sin in our lives there will always be a disconnect between us and God our creator. So our first goal is to help people get reconnected to God.

Secondly, we have all been disconnected from each other because of sin. When man sinned, he recognized he was naked. He became self aware. He became jealous (see Genesis 4). We have been at war and odds with each other ever since. In fact the 10 Commandments are, in large part, laws and rules that give us boundaries on how to live with others we are estranged from.

If we loved each other, if we were in true community we would not need laws to keep us from killing each other. We need to be reconnected.

When we are reconnected to our God, we move towards reconnecting with our fellow man.

So when we say at MFC we need to get connected we are saying . . .

- We need to reconnect with our Savior.
- We need to reconnect with our fellow man.

And, finally, we need to learn to live as part of the Body of Christ.

From the beginning God knew that it was not good for man to be alone. God created a woman, a person like a man but different, so that he could have a companion. We were created to live together, in communities. That is what a basic family is: a community.

So we are calling all people to learn to live in connection to all others in the Body of Christ.

All of us need to learn to give and share and love and support others in the Body. Let's get connected!!

“All of us need to learn to give and share and love and support others in the Body.”
